CR 117-035-3

O R D E R

Before the Court in the captioned case is Defendant Dwayne Oswald Fulton's motion to terminate the remainder of his supervised release. Fulton pled guilty to the offense of conspiracy to commit wire fraud, bribery, false statement, and obstruction of justice. Pursuant to his plea agreement, the Court sentenced Fulton to serve sixty months imprisonment and three years of supervised release on May 23, 2018. After serving 27 months of his sentence, he was compassionately released to a residential reentry center ("RRC") in Augusta, Georgia. Fulton came under the supervision of the United States Probation Office of this district upon his release from the RRC on January 13, 2022.

Presently, Fulton requests that the remaining term of supervised release be terminated. While Fulton has complied with all conditions of his supervised release to date, both the Government and Fulton's supervising probation officer oppose his motion because he has only served just over one year of supervised release. It should also be mentioned that Fulton's term of incarceration was favorably affected by his plea agreement and shortened by the grant of compassionate release.

Upon due consideration, I find that terminating Fulton's supervised release at this time is simply premature. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED that the motion for early termination (doc. no. 248) is DENIED.

ORDER ENTERED at Augusta, Georgia, this 10th day of April, 2023.
